Daniel Webster on Employment.

Parties websiter of Employment that makes the people happy. Sir, this great truth ought never to be forgotten; it ought to be placed upon the title page of every book on pulitical economy intended for America, and nuch countries as America. It ought to head the columns of every furner's magazine and mechanic's magazine. It should be proclaimed everywhere, notwithstanding what we hear of the usefulness, and I admit the high usefulness, of clear food-motwithstanding that the of the usefulness, and I admit the high usefulness, of cheap food—notwithstanding that the great truth should be proclaimed overwhere, hould be made into a proverb, if it could, that where thore was work for the hands of men, there will be work for the hands of men, there will be work for the hands of men, there is employment there will be bread; and in a country like our own, above all others, will this truth hold good; in a country like ours, where, with a great deal of spirit and activity among the masses, if they can find employment, there is always great willingness for labor. If they can obtain fair compensation for their labor, they will have good houses, good clothing, good food, and the means of educating their children from their labor, that labor will be cheefful, and they will be a contented and happy people." tented and happy people.

This extract from one of Mr. Webster's speeches is peculiarly apropos to the present time of need and suffering. We should give the industrious poor employment if possible, and then whilst we supply their physical necessities, we will afford them the only legitimate means of obtaining real happiness. The motto of the poor German clubs in the streets of New York, "Give us work," although revolutionary in its present application, should startle us from our innearity and induce us to work, and thus create employment for others.

flow well it would be if those who are pro-fessing to follow Henry Clay and Daniel Web-ster, in a question which has arisen since the death of these great men, would adopt the po-licy to which they endeavored to hold the country, on questions that were agitated in their lives, and that have survived them, and that are still full of the highest interest for the whole country. We all know what the views whole country. We all know what the views of these man were upon the currency, upon re-whole country. We all know what the views of these man were upon the currency, upon revenue, and upon protection. A great many men who opposed them all their lives, profess a high reverence for their character and deep faith in their principles, now that they are dead. What a capital idea it would be, if they would only adopt their policy. How this country would rise from the depression under which it is laboring, if we had a currency of equal value in every part of it, shouldn't for the purposes of trude, yet controlled by a wise conservation, not let out with reckless Uberality, and recalled without regard to the wants or condition of the people, but steadily hold in the proportion to the public necessity, if we had a revenue system that gave us our own markets for our own products, that onabled us to sonsume our breadstails on the soil where they were truised, that developed our own vast mineral resources, and that made us as independent commercially as we are politically. How the arm of below result he risk us as independent commercially as we are poli-tically. How the arm of labor would be rais-ed, and bow the heart of labor would be glad-dened by such a policy.

We make the foregoing excellent extract from the Providence Journal, a paper distinguished for its eminent conservatism and judgment in matters of mercantile and commercial import. We cordially endorse its spirit, and commend it to the attention of our readers,-it sounds to us like the first ringing note of a clarion, calling together the scattered forces, of what will soon become a great national party. We are inclined to echo the sentiments of our friend "the Cardinal," and in this Pandoros age of half grown novelties to bless the brave man that is "an old fogy."

PRINTERS AND PARADOXES -- A printer, says Oliver, is the most curious being living. He may have a bank and coins, and not be worth a cent; have smill caps, and have neither wife nor children. Others may run fast, but he gets along swifter by setting fast. He may be making impressions, without eloquence; may use the ley without offending, and be telling the truth; while others cannot stand while they set, he can set standing, and do both at the same time; have to use furniture, and yet have no dwelling; may make and put away pi, and never see a pie, much less eat it, during his whole life; be a human being and a rut at the same time; may press a great deal and not ask a favor; may handle a shooting iron, and know nothing about a camon, gun or pistol; he may move the lever that move the world, and yet be as far from moving the globe as a hog under a molehill; spread sheds without being a housewife; he may lay 1: form on a bad, and yet be obliged to steep on the floor; may use the dagger miliout shedding blood, and from the earth he may handle stars; he may he of a relling disposition, and yet never desire to travel; he may have a sheep's foot, and not be de-formed; never without a case, and know nothing of law or physic; be always correcting his ecrors, and he growing worse every day; have em-braces, without having the arms of a lass thrown around him : nave his /orm locked up, and at the same time be free from jail, watch-house, or any other confinement; his office may have a hell in it, and not be a hell place after all; he might he plagued by the devil. and be a Christian of the best kind; and what is stranger still, he he honest or dishonest, rich or poor, drunk or sober, industrious or lazy, he al-ways stands up to his business.

BREAD AND POTATOES, -If the Common Council really desire to help the poor at this time of distress and poverty, let them promptly pass an ordinance requiring bread to be sold by weight. This will in a few days make the poor man's money go a great deal terther in supplying the wants of his family. And while they are thus serving the needy by wise legislation, let them go further and require potatoes also to be sold by weight. The poorer classes will derive no small benefit from the two measures.— Com. Adv.

THE ARNOLD BURIAL GROUND.

We publish the following lengthy and valuable communication or remonstrance from our fellow citizen. Dr. King, not only by request but because we consider it a document which eminently deserves to be placed before the public.

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the City unient which eminently deserves to be placed before the public.

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the City Conneil.:

1 trust, that you will excuse the liberty, which I take in addressing you on the subject of the Petition, presented at your last meeting, Oct. 27. 1837, for the removal of the Arnold Burial Ground, to another place to he called the "City Antiquarian Lot." I address you on this topic purely from a sense of duty. I am personally interested in the subject only so far as every eitzen should be interested in a measure, affecting the character and honor of the City. The Petitioner, I know to be a good eitzen, and a generous man. But I believe his generosity on this occasion to be misdirected and Ill judged.

The Petitioner implies that he would not kave undertaken the enterprize unless the project had been encourged by several officers of the City Government, by the Secretary of the State and by all the persons immediately interested in the family of Cov. Arnold. I am persuaded, that the Petitioner and his advisers have not fully weighed all the circumstances of the case. To effect the measure, 1st. he presents the City with four lots in the Willow Cemetry. 2d. he guarantees to remove every hody in the yard, in the most delicate and careful manner in the above hers. 3d. To bury them in the same order in which they were originally placed, 4th. To have the stones put in perfect order, recutting where it is necessary. 6th. To enchase the lots with handsome posts, and to inscribe upon a suitable stone, to be placed in the same "The City Antiquarian Lot."

Now gentlemen let us examine his propositions in succession. 1st. As regards the reception of the Deeds of the four lots in the Willow Gemetry, without conditions attached, there could be no objection, because the City, and which they can inter the remains of any person, which they may deem proper there to deposit," But the Petitiorer gives these four lots, on condition that the City shall authorize him to take possession, as his own of the three rods square, three rods square of ground, or any part thereof, that he ordered it to be wholly reserved as his family burial ground, that he ordered and as ramily outsiground, that he ordered and appointed a free egress to and from this burial ground, through the adjoining land, without any molestation from any person who should succeed him in the possession or ownership of the land about it. Let me quote the items of his will which relate to this family burial ground.

"MPRIMES. And in ye first place t having full assurance of yo infinise mercy of my Almighty Creator uniong soul do hands from whom I received it, and by whose grace and mode willing to wait bit pleasure for my change from this transitory life, time a life in and with himself eternally, and my body union you can't from whome to you can't from whence by re-almighty power and Better of ye can't from whence by re-almighty power and Better of my large the state of the s no, owe may be decently intered by the Experiment of the wining mancel, we charge of and interpret to the foraget out of my personal extate. and up sold wife on ye. South side it not, and that my kindred should about my grave?

Now what can be mere clear an precise than Gov. Arnold's directions with regard to his family burial lot. It is plain that he intended that his body should remain on that spot mingled with kindred dust forever. It is plain, that he intended that, that precise rhree rods square of land should not be converted to any other use. If not, why did he prohibit the sale of that land or any part forever? Why did he reserve forever, a free egress and regress without molestation to and from it through the adjoining land, of which he died possessed? By this will his heirs have no right to convert this precise piece of land to any other use. When therefore the petitioner askathe city to authorise its conversion to some other use, he asks what cannot in right and justice be granted. Will any man deny to the lawful owner of a piece of land, the right to reserve by will, a portion for his own, or his family's burid, when that burial does not conflict with public health and suffey? Will any noan deny to fice. Arnold the right of laying out a private burial ground and to protect it from sale or transfer, by a legal instrument ralled a will? Where then dues the city get its right to transfer or to dispose of it? The city is incorporated with certain powers. Has it this power to set aside a will, a legal instrument, so as to take property set apart under that will for a certain purpose, and to devote it to another, and an entirely different purpose.

that will for a certain purpose, and to devote it to another, and an entirely different purpose.

It is not necessary, gentlemen, to proceed farther in the review of the petition, as I think that the whole question must be decided on the grounds already advanced. It will, however, direct your attention to the remaining propositions, The petitioner guarantees to remove every body in the yard and to bury them in the same order in which they were originally placed. This is impracticable. No human powers are equal to it, The want of distinctive marks to the graves of the greater partion of individuals buried there, renders it impossible to remove every hady there deposited. Time and neglect have destroyed the grave stones, and removed the mounds, which formerly distinguished the graves. A very few monuments remain. Some few of these can be removed perhaps in a satisfactory manner. But the budies of most individuals there, have mingled through lapse of time with the soil. How is it possible to discriminate every body there buried? How is it possible to remove every body in a careful and delicate manner? There is no science which can enable one to discriminate the component parts of each individual. The whole soil has now become one individuals. The whole soil has now become one indivisible family sepulcher. The petitioner cannot accomplish his object without the removal of the whole soil. Such a removal would disturb the order, in which they were originally placed.

The family burial ground remains, and the right of egress and regress. The spot is consecrated by the dust of Benedict Arnold and ohis family and kindred. It has regained that be desired.

secrated by the dust of Benedlet Arnold and of his family and kindred. It has required thus sacred for many generations. Why should it be disturbed To preserve the graves. Let good feeling prompt the city, in the absence of the heirs, to preserve the graves in the locality in which they now exist. The city can do as much for the preservation of the graves on the present sput and at a more moderate expense than on any other.

I might here point to the high character of Gov. Arnold, as a motive to this course of proceeding by the City Government. He became a freeman of Newport in 1851 and was then added to the list of original purchasers. He was for several years President of the Colony under the first charter. He was designated as first Governor under the charter of Chast. H. That charter was drawn up by our ancestors, It was the result of their common deliberations. No one can doubt, but that Benedict Arnold had his full share in its compusition. Had not John Clarke succeeded in obtaining its grant by the King in 1663, the Legislature had resolved to send Houeliet Arnold and others to the Court of England to secure by charter from the restored King, their rights and privileges. He was a public benefactor in his day. At his death in 1677 he included a certain tract of land to be disposed of towards erecing and maintaining a free school in Newsort and for the relief of the poor people of the town. The whole sum was to be placed in the hands of the Council of the town and their successors forever. Let the gratitude of the town be shown, in a strict regard to his will and in acquiresence to his right to repose in the grave selected by himself one hundred and seventy-nine years ago. I might go on and name others who lie in that ground, and whose character during life vindicates their right to repose, as Edward Pelham connected with a noble family in Bugland, and John Bannister, an original character and one of the first merchants in his day.

The formation of a city antiquarian character and one of the first merchants in his day.

The formation of a city antiquarian square seems to be one argument advanced in favor of the petition.

A city antiquarian square is a sort of modern production composed of ancient materials. I believe that there exists no such square beyond the bounds of New England. I have seen one in the city of New Haven. Such a square composed of ancient grave stones removed from their original localities can import but little interest to the man of antiquarian taste and true feeling. A true love of antiquity, which I believe is allied to some of the highest principles of our nature, would lead one not to disturb these landmarks of upast age, but to repair and maintain them one not to disturb these landmarks of a past age, but to repair and maintain them on their original spots, to which alone are attached most sacred associations.—
Let families such as Arnolds remain where they are. Let the old and honored Governor remain in the grave which he himself selected. Let the piety of the city be shown in resetting and recutting his monument and persetting and recutting his monument and persetting and recutting his monument and perremain in the grave which he himself selectical. Let the piety of the city be shown in resetting and recutting his monument and perpetuating the knowledge of that spot in the remembrance of men. Let all the tombs of our old Governors be repaired by the city. Let them remain where they are. And if the city or individuals choose to go further in honor of the dead, let new monuments to their memory be erected in our public grounds. Such a course would be commendable in individuals. Such a course would be commendable in individuals. Such a course would be commendable in the city. Because it is in accordance with the best natural feelings of mankind. It accomplishes all that can be desired without offending good taste and infringing upon the true proprieties of life, without trespassing upon the rights of the dead, and viotating the sense of justice among men.

Gentlemen, in presenting these views. I am actuated by no personal matives. It so happens that those who have moved in this materiand are desirated to accomplish the project are my friends. From this circumstance and various others, it is with groat reluctance, that I address you on the present occasion. But deeming the character and honor of the city to be involved in the decision of the case. I could not do otherwise than offer to your consideration what I think to be the true ely to be involved in the decision of the condi-l could not do otherwise than offer to your consideration what I think to be the true grounds of a just and wise decision.

Very Respectfully your fellow citize n,
DAVID KING,
Newport, Nov. 3, 1857.

The senior Editor of this paper taking undue advantage of his size and the fact that he has been trying to write editorials for a longer period than we have been writing them, seized an opportunity afforded him by our brief absence, to " pitch into us" in a most indecorous and obstreperous manner; he made insinuations against ou political character, as an American, and stated that we had been stumping Massachusetts for Governor Gardner, and referred to the somewhat self-evident fact, that he was not elected Governor of Massachusetts. We don't wish to trait on facts, but we would pleasantly hint to the senior that he wrote considerable matter and made many gigantic efforts in favor of Colonel Fremont in the last Presidential campaign, and we are correctly informed that the Colonel was not elected. With regard to the senior's sagacity and wisdom, we read that Solomon was a very wise man, but did a great many foolish things and it would be a funny way of deciding the political pateruity of the Daily News, by cutting it in two as that wise King did the Hebrew baby.

We have received from the Association the December number of the "Cosmo politan Art Journal," Quarterly devoted to Literature and the Fine Art. The leading article is entitled "Greek Arts." and traces the progress of sculpture and painting from its earliest ages to the present time, there is an exquisite steel engraving of the "Greek Slave," and several good wood-cuts including a cool shadowy picture illustrating Wordsworth's "willowy brook that turns a mill," and the "Morning" of Thompson's Seasons.

The "Cosmopolitan Association" offer tare inducements to subscribers, as each person upon the payment of two dollars receives a ticket in their magnificent collection of works of Art, which are distributed annually.

We have received the following music from the City Music Store. It is published by O. Dilson & Co., Boston, Mass.

"La Barcarolle," theme by C. Von Weber arranged by James C. Barret, it is very pleasing. "Fuse et Souer Polka," by C. Marcailhon and the "Banic Blink Schottisch," by II. A. Pond, are very good indeed. "La flute magique de Mozart" and Theme de Gluck," are two pretty rondinettos arranged for four hands by Chas.

"Move eastward happy earth and leave;" nusic by Frank Sewell, words by Tennyson, is a beautiful song.

"The cottage by the Glen;" by W. D. Franklin, is a pretty simple ballad.

GENERAL NEWS

THE PRICE OF BEER.-There was a de pression of prices of beef cattle at Bulls Head on Wednesday, that will warrent a corresponding reduction of heef upon the hutchers stall, since no one supposes for a moment that we shall return to the prices of the past summer again during the next year. The very best beef cattle sold at prices equivalent to 10 cents a pound for the meat, at which the quarter may be sold and leave the hide and fat for profit. A great many cattle of very fair quality sold at 9 cents, and none over 10 cents except were rated premium or extra quality. And these prices are expected to continue by nearly all parties engaged in the business. It is therefore out of the question ihat city consumers should be obliged to pay 20 cents or any such sum for steaks and roasts. It is equaly out of the question that country producers, should expect as high a price for cattle fed upon corn at 12 or 15 cents a bushel, as they obtained when they fed corn at 60 or 75 cents a bushel, The price of beef cattle is down, permanently down; the question now is, whether consumers are to profit by it. DIETETIC SALERATUS DIETETIC SALERATUS

Is among the most important improvements of the present day. Every family throughaut this land should be acquainted with its intrinsic value, and thereby escape the man evils arising from the use of common Saleratus—the caustic impurities of which are acknowledged destructive to leadth, by physicians generally Common saleratus has the elements of caustic alkalt, and readily acts on the coating of the stomach, thus deranging the digestive organs and laving the way of Dyspepsia and diseases of every kind. Children are the greatest sufferers and frequently die from infantile diseases, which in former years, were successfully treated, even without medical aid. But here is an article to be relied on.

James Pyle's Dietetic Saleratus, the result of many experiments, is entirely different from everything heretofore in use.—
The perfection reached in purifying it, makes it as harmless to the stomach as flour itself, while in puint of nicety it surpasses the helst baking soda, and will make bread, biscuit and cake, beautifully light, nutritious, and suitable for the most dyspeptic stomach. Every lady that tries it will use no other.—Beware or Countreffers.—Our great success has brought out a multitude of poisonous imitations. The genuine is packed in whole, half, and quarter packages, with the name of James Pyle on each. Manufacturing Depot, 313 Washington at., New York.
For sale at all the groceries in Newport, Providence and throughout the State. James Pyle's Dietelic Saleratus, fore they never had. JEREMIAH S. ROSS, 129 Wickenden street. Providence, May 20, 1857.

Providence, July 30, 1857.

C. A. P. Mason,—Dear Sir—I am now using the Alpine Hair Ralm, which I had of you, with most happy results. On the 30th of June last, my hair (which had been gray for more than six years) was fast fulling off; but on the dapplication of the Balm it ceased falling, and is now firmly rooted, and very nearly its third application of the Balm it ceased falling, and is now firmly rooted, and very nearly its original color. By the use of one bottle, I confidently expect a complete, permanent, luxuriant and original head of hair. If every gray haired skeptic would try it, they would one become "living episites, known and read of all men." as having used the Alpine Hair Balm. Yours, &c.

TESTIMONY OF A LADY OVER 50 YEARS OF AGE.

Mr Mason, Sir-1 write to inform you how pleased I am with your Alpine Hair Balm.—My hair has been gray for a number of years, and I have been obliged to wear a front piece and cap; but have always found a difficulty when having a bonnet on to keep the front piece from working back and shawing the white hair. Finally I concluded I would try your Alpine Hair Balm; I used one bottle only and my hair has come back to its natural calor, which was brown. My hair is now perfectly free from dandruff and is soft and glossy. Very respectfully, SARAH LYON.

Through and trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERIN PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled Consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all powerful antidute to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong whisper to all but him Consumernon. He tries everything; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the Cherny Pectoral now: it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night: his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the Guenny Pectoral, and inaperisable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Gough and all iritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insiduous prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a fook.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists everywhere. 622-digwimos
